INTERNATIONAL PRACTICES in AGED CARE

Speakers

Joanne Spetz, Professor

Institute for Health Policy Studies - University of California

In the USA, Home health and personal care aides are one of the largest groups of health care workers in the United States, with nearly three million people providing direct care for people with serious illness living in the community.

Joanne will provide an overview of this workforce and the challenges it faces, including in recruitment, training, retention, and regulation, and a lack of data and research to support evidence-based policy change.

Mari Miyake, Director

Department of Hygiene & Public Health - Kansai Medical University.

Osaka, Japan

In JAPAN, the aging of Japan is thought to outweigh all other nations with the highest proportion of elderly citizens both in rural and urban areas.

Mari will share how Japan is managing their current aged care demands and dementia care needs.
